LIST OF NAMES ON TOMBSTONES—ALSO A BRIEF
OUTLINE OF THE ACQUISITION OF THE JEWISH CEMETERY

NINTH AND SPRUCE STREETS, PHILADELPHIA

COMPILED BY

REV. L. H. ELMALEH and J. BUNFORD SAMUEL, MAY, 1906

The earliest authentic record of the Spruce Street Cemetery is in the year 1740, when Mr. Nathan Levy obtained a grant of thirty feet square, and in 1752 an addition of thirty feet wide and sixty feet in depth, with the liberty of an alley ten feet wide from Spruce Street, upon his application to John Penn, Chief of the Proprietary Government of Pennsylvania; for which ground Mr. Levy paid an annual tax of "a quit rent of Five Shillings Sterling," or value of coin current of Pennsylvania. In September, 1751, the following notice was inserted in the Pennsylvania Gazette.

"WHEREAS, Many unthinking people have been in the habit of setting up marks and fired several shots against the fence of the Jews' Burying Ground, which not only destroyed said fence, but also a Tombstone in it; there being a brick wall now erected, I must desire the sportsmen to forbear (for the future) firing against said wall. If they do, whoever will inform, so that the offender be convicted thereof before a Magistrate, shall have twenty shilling reward paid by me.

"Philadelphia, September 12th, 1751.

NATHAN LEVY."

Tradition further records that after the place was walled in, it was often desecrated, not only by marks and shots, but by executions of deserters by British soldiers in front of its gates, during the Revolutionary War. Nathan Levy's remains have been buried there since 1753.

Later (June 21, 1765) an adjacent piece of ground was granted to Mathias Bush by John Penn.

On October 31, 1765, John Lukens, Surveyor General, drew a design of the cemetery and suitably endorsed it as "surveyed and resurveyed."

In 1791 the Congregation Mikveh Israel appointed Manuel Josephson, Joseph Simons, Barnard Gratz, Solomon Lyon and Samuel Hays trustees for the burial ground. A document bearing the signature of David Franks reads as follows:

"WHEREAS, Nathan Levy, formerly of this city, merchant, did apply for two pieces of ground for a burial place for his family, which said two pieces of ground was granted to him, as more fully will appear by the records of the Land Office, this is to certify and declare that said application, which was in the name of the aforesaid Nathan Levy, was intended for the use of his family, and also for the use of the Hebrew congregation (Mikveh Israel) of this city; it being intended at the time he applied for the same to be a trust for a burial place for the interment of Hebrews. Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the thirtieth day of November, 1791."

Also another document, drawn in 1793, by direction of Benjamin Levy, of Baltimore, married to Rachel Levy, daughter of the deceased Nathan Levy, and her sister, Philadelphia Levy, recognizes the appointment of the five trustees, reserving to the heirs of the departed Nathan Levy 'the free, unrestrained and absolute right of burial and all and every honor and privilege of sepulture for themselves only in and upon the above described lot of ground.' " This document proves beyond doubt the absolute right of the Congregation Mikveh Israel to the Spruce Street Cemetery.

Though these public spirited men meant the Cemetery to be the resting place for all their brothers in Israel, their descendants were not equally unselfish, and for many years there were dissensions as to the rights of ownership. .

The question was finally settled April 14th, 1828, when the Legislature passed an act giving the burial ground to the Jews of Philadelphia. The names, Samuel Hays, Simon Gratz, Zalegman Phillips and Abraham Myers Cohen, Trustees of the Congregation Mikveh Israel, having been affixed to the petition. Many whose names are synonyms of patriotism and affection found their resting places in this historic Cemetery. Chief among these was Rebecca Gratz, the beauty of whose face and character suggested the heroine of Ivanhoe. Most of her family are also buried here, including her father, Michael, and her brother, Hyman Gratz, through whose bequest the Gratz College was founded.

The names of Jonas and Zalegman Phillips are noteworthy, the latter for high standing at the Philadelphia bar, and as Parnas of the Congregation Mikveh Israel, a position previously held by his father, Jonas, <sup>Zalegman Phillips</sup> whose wife was the grand-<sup>daughter of Mathias Bush, one of the signers of the Nonim-</sup> daughter of <sup>Mathias Bush</sup> Mathias Bush, one of the signers of the Nonim-<sup>daughter of Mathias Bush</sup> portation Act. Philanthropy is represented by John Moss, whose unobtrusive charity and kindly nature endeared him to all.

Romance, too, crept into this quiet graveyard in the person of Mrs. Aaron Levy, originally a redemptionist, rescued from slavery, educated and married by Aaron Levy. Space forbids an enumeration of all the historic names inscribed on the tombstones, but such as the Rev. Abraham Israel Keys, Daniel Gomez, Rev. Emanuel Nunez Cavalho, Rabbi Eliezer Joseph Israel, Emanuel Josephson and Reuben Etting are of more than local fame.

Since the purchase of the Federal Street Cemetery, in 1848, the burials in the Spruce Street Cemetery have almost ceased, the last recorded one being Hetty Pesoa, July 3, 1886.

NOTE.—Many of the above facts were taken from The Jews of Philadelphia by H. S. Morais, published in 1894.

EPITAPHS.

Ye who pass these lonely sepulchres, pause a moment and fix your eyes on this tombstone. In earth's bosom rest together Father and Daughter, who, dear and loving to each other when living are not parted even in death.

NOTE 3—"On Tuesday, 10th day of Tammuz, 5591, June 1831, my beloved and lamented mother Mrs. Rebecca Phillips departed this life at half-past six o'clock in the morning aged eighty-five years, six months and eleven days. She was buried on the 22nd day of June, adjoining the Reverend A. S. Key's. She was the daughter of the Reverend David Mendez Machado, one of the first Hazanim of New York, and of his wife, Zipporah, the daughter of Doctor Nunez, who came over from Portugal as Physician to Governor Oglethorpe and his suite at the first settlement of Georgia. My mother was born in the Town of Reading, Berks County, Pennsylvania. All her ancestors were born in Portugal."

(Signed) ZALEGMAN PHILLIPS.

NOTE 4—Hon. N. Taylor Phillips, of New York a great-nephew of Mr. Zalegman Phillips, says that Mrs. Rebecca Phillips was not born in Reading, but on Stone Street, New York City, 1747.

NOTE 5—Dr. Cyrus Adler, of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., found in the Diary of Dr. Benjamin Rush the following lines about Mrs. Bravo, wife of Jacob M. Bravo, buried in the Cemetery.

“December 15th, 1812. This day I received twenty dollars from Mrs. Bravo, from Jamaica, for attendance upon her husband who died in this city.

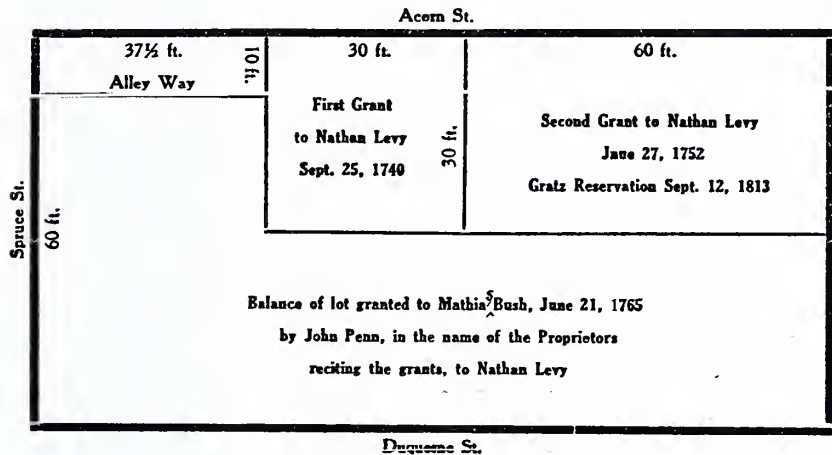

I did not expect a payment of this bill, having seldom and perhaps never received payment of a bill under equal circumstances, Mrs. Bravo was a Jewess.”

(Signed) DR. BENJAMIN RUSH.
